Roman 2nd Century Ruins

Северна крепостна стена от IV-VI, VIII-XVI в. и епископска и патриаршеска базилика на Дръстър от IX-XIV в.

на данубийския бряг е разкрито трасето на първото укрепление (кастел) от IV в. През VI в. е издигната първата крепостна стена с ширина 3,50 м. В началото на VII в. е възстановена и ползвана до средата на IX в. Пред нея е възстановена и ползвана сване от IX до XV в. Пред нея е възстановено и ползвано граничното на късноантичния и ранния град. Южно от стената, където през 352 г. е изгорен първият мъченик св. Емилиян, през VI в. е издигнат първият храм. Вероятно това е първата църква на първия епископ на Дръстър след покръстването. Представлява трикорабен храм с притвор с обща дължина и ширина 14,70 м. След IX в. Дръстър става резиденция на първия български патриарх Дамян, който е погребан в крестокуполната базилика. През XII в. базиликата е катедрален храм на първите епископи и митрополити на Дръстър. В време пред светите братя е извършено епископско погребение. В началото на 19 век старческото нашествие е изградено новена.

Northern fortress wall from the IV-VI, VIII-XVI century and bishop and patriarch basilica in Drastar from the IX-XIV century.

Here on the Danube shore is uncovered the road-bed of the first fortification (cast the IV century. Later, in the VI century a massive fortress wall was raised with a width of 3.50-4.20 m, which is restored without interruption from the IV to the VII century. In front of it was the port and the medieval city. South of the wall is the place where in 352 St. Dorostol martyr st. Emilian was killed. In the second half of the IX century a church was built in this place - an impressive temple. Probably in the second half of the IX century a cathedral church of the first Bulgarian patriarch after the conversion - st. Nikanor is built. It has an apse temple with a nave and a narthex and a total length and width of 14.79 m. After 917 AD it becomes a residence of the first Bulgarian patriarch Damian, the church is reconstructed in a cruciform plan. In the IX-XI century the church is transformed into the temple of the Byzantine emperor. The metropolitan of Drastar is buried in the temple of the holy gates of the first patriarch. In 1242 it is reconstructed.
